Sales engineer

ESL solutions - retailer's activities

Pricer is a Swedish global technology company founded in 1991, since then headquartered in Stockholm and today present in 60 countries worldwide among which the USA, Taiwan, France, Germany, Italy and Belgium. Pricer is listed on NASDAQ Stockholm.

Pricer develops and manufactures the world's most reliable digital store communication system with electronic shelf labels (ESL).

We help retailers around the world to solve a number of key and time-consuming in-store challenges by streamlining critical processes in the store, such as price updates, in-store picking and inventory.

Our system provides a stable platform for reaching out with messages, product information and offers to the shoppers. By developing technical solutions and services that are easy to implement, apply and use, we help our customers fade the boundaries between different sales channels in an increasingly digitized and connected world.

For 30 years, our ideas, technology and employees have changed the way retailers around the world carry out their duties and communicate with their customers.
